

King's College
Construction Law Association
"KCCLA"

ALLIANCING IN PRACTICE: THE UK EXPERIENCE

You are invited to an afternoon conference to discuss the background to the use of alliancing contracts in construction projects, to consider the reasons for their increased use in the UK and to review a case study as to how they operate in practice.

The conference will be chaired by Professor David Mosey, Director of the Centre for Construction Law at King's College London. The panel will include Norman Kerfoot of Advance, Nigel Blundell and Bob Ruddiman of Pinsent Masons, Neill Carruthers and Ian Grant of Network Rail and Peter Webb of Balfour Beatty.

Date and time

Monday 23 September, 4.00 pm for registration, 4.30 for the start and 7.00 for drinks

Venue

Pinsent Masons LLP's offices, 30 Crown Place, London, EC2A 4ES (map enclosed below)

Cost

£20 for King's MSc current and past students, £25 for non members

www.kccla.org.uk

Programme

- 4.30 Professor David Mosey of the Centre for Construction Law – Welcome and introduction
- 4.35 Norman Kerfoot of Advance – Norman will explain the background to alliancing, the benefits it can offer and why the construction industry is choosing to use such contracts
- 5.00 Bob Ruddiman of Pinsent Masons – Bob will review the use of alliancing in the early 1990s in the oil and gas industry, how it came about and what lessons can be learnt
- 5.25 Neill Carruthers of Network Rail – Neill will discuss why Network Rail is choosing to use alliancing contracts, how alliancing is being implemented and the anticipated benefits
- 5.50 Nigel Blundell of Pinsent Masons – Nigel will discuss the legal framework for alliancing contracts and will explain the structure of the contract and how it is set up
- 6.15 Peter Webb of Balfour Beatty and Ian Grant of Network Rail – Peter and Ian will review the issues that came up on the F2A alliancing project and the factors that made it a success
- 6.45 Professor David Mosey – Questions and close
- 7.00 Drinks and networking

To book a place, please fill in the form below and return by post or email to Gary Peters, gpeters@blackrockpm.co.uk, Savoy Hill House, 7-10 Savoy Hill, London WC2R 0BU.

Name _____

Organization _____

E-mail _____

MSc student/graduate start year _____

Payment

- Please find enclosed a cheque for £_____ made out to King's College Construction Law Association

Or

- Payment has been made to the KCCLA bank account:

Sort Code:	30-00-04
Account:	00795411
Account Name:	King's College Construction Law Association
Bank:	Lloyds TSB

